Here, we outline the intended audience and prerequisites for this course.

We'll cover the following ⌃
• Intended Audience
• Prerequisites

Thank you for choosing this course! We hope that this course will interest you to learn programming in R.

Intended Audience

This course is particularly designed for programmers or statisticians who have never programmed in R before yet want to build their skills in R. This course will not only teach basic syntax in R, but also present basic problems that you can solve hands-on and the solutions as well.

Prerequisites

You need not have any previous knowledge of R. We teach programming in R from scratch.
